

National Education Day Celebration at APS Jammu Cantt

On the occasion of National Education Day, a special assembly was organized by Mahavir House held at Army Public School, Jammu Cantt on 11 November 2024 to honor the contributions of Maulana Abul Kalam Azad, the first Minister of Education in independent India, writer and a senior leader of Indian independence movement against British rule in the first half of the 20th century. He was highly respected throughout his life as a man of high moral integrity. The event was marked by a series of inspiring activities that emphasized on the importance of education and its role in nation-building.

Students delivered inspiring and thought-provoking speech and thought encouraging everyone present to value their education and use it for the greater good. Under the guidance of Ms Harjeet Kour, house warden of Mahavir house, a group of students presented a skit that depicted the struggles of children in rural areas who lack access to quality education. Through their moving performance, they portrayed the need for equal opportunities and the role of the youth in driving positive change in society.

Ms Ramneek Kour, senior PRT at the school, gave a detailed speech on the Importance of Education in today's world. The teacher spoke about how education shapes an individual and society, fosters equality, and contributes to building a progressive and peaceful nation. The speech resonated deeply with students, urging them to respect their education and make the most of their learning opportunities.

The day not only honored the memory of a great leader but also inspired students to take their education seriously and contribute towards the betterment of society. The students left the assembly with a renewed sense of purpose, understanding the crucial role that education plays in shaping individuals, communities, and nations.
